OWEN PAULI

Hello! I am a driven and passionate member of the workforce with proven experience in sales, customer service, and policy analysis. I am looking for a career that will allow me to expand my sales skills, continue growing my knowledge base, and express my outgoing personality.

EXPERIENCE

Dash Social — Enterprise Sales Development Representative

OCTOBER 2023 - PRESENT

- I am currently a Sales Development Representative (SDR) with Dash Social, a social media B2B SaaS company that is based in Halifax, Nova Scotia.
- I hit my first fully-ramped quota, in Q1 2024, and stayed a top seller among my team throughout the year.
- After being promoted to the Enterprise team, I now focus primarily on large companies with over $50M+ in revenue.
- Daily KPIs achieved include 50-70 calls, 100-125 emails, and LinkedIn and other social messages.

Enterprise Mobility — Assistant Manager

MAY 2022 - SEPTEMBER 2023

- Responsible for the management and planning of a fleet of over 100 vehicles
- Emphasis on sales and customer relationship management, with a heavy focus on high levels of customer satisfaction and ensuring a strong and loyal relationship with clients
- Team structure and work ethic, as well as a profound knowledge of the markets and economic reality of the car rental industry
- Within my first month, I was one of the top three salespersons in Atlantic Canada, illustrating my commitment to both excellence in customer service and in marketing.
- Selling, handling objections, and demonstrating how our products can benefit our clients is the most valuable element of our operations, and the main way we grow our business.
- I was promoted to Assistant Manager within a year, teaching me the skills of managing employees, scheduling, and conflict resolution within teams of staff.

Art of the Possible (University of King's College Experiential Learning Project) — Data Collection, Exploration, and Communication Intern

DECEMBER 2021 - AUGUST 2022

- Responsible for assisting in the delivery of focus groups to explore the benefits, barriers, and opportunities for entrepreneurship and experiential learning in the Arts in Nova Scotia.
- Responsible for ensuring that there was technological support for virtual meetings.

- Summarization, debriefing, cleaning, collection, and analysis of the data acquired from the project.
- Accuracy, knowledge of qualitative research, collaboration, time management, and critical thinking were essential and necessary skills that this position helped me to solidify.

VOLUNTEERING

John Howard Society of Nova Scotia — Practicum Student

JANUARY 2022 - MARCH 2022

- As part of a practicum placement opportunity with Dalhousie University, I volunteered with the John Howard Society organization in Nova Scotia.
- Responsibilities included the research and creation of organizational policies including a social media policy, and the assistance in the delivery of programs to the clients that the John Howard Society serves.
- Skills that this position has helped me develop include patience, adaptability, and sensitivity.

Senate of Canada — Volunteer Student Researcher

JANUARY 2021 - JUNE 2021

- I worked with the Office of a sitting Senator in order to provide in-depth research of the aquaculture sector of the Atlantic region, especially in how it pertains to legislation before Fisheries and Oceans Canada.
- Duties of this project included gathering and synthesizing information relevant to the aquaculture sector, a capability of reporting effectively critical information and corresponding remotely with coworkers and staff to organize communications and scheduling.

EDUCATION

Dalhousie University — Bachelor of Arts (First Class Honours)

SEPTEMBER 2018 - MAY 2022

- Taking Political Science and Economics in University has taught me the important skills of critical thinking and analysis, understanding current political and economic trends, and creative problem solving.
- I graduated from the undergraduate program with an Honours degree with first class distinction, the highest awarded.
